VOL. VI. NO. 128 — FRESNO, CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY, JULY 4, 1893 — PRICE—5 CENTS

SHERMAN ON SILVER

He Favors the Repeal of the Law,

AND IS OPPOSED TO A PARITY

Some Interesting Figures Concerning Silver Dollars and Bullion.

CHICAGO, July 3.—"There never has been a time since the law of 1890, known as the Sherman act, was passed that I would not have voted for its repeal," said Senator Sherman today. "The Sherman act was a compromise measure passed to save the country from a free coinage bill. I have told Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Carlisle that I will stand with them for a sound, safe, stable currency. I think the Sherman law will be repealed, but the danger is that congress may go too far. Should the clause providing for the purchase of 4,500,000 ounces of silver monthly be stricken out it would be well, but if congress should repeal the clause providing that the United States shall maintain a parity between gold and silver coins, it would cause a widespread distrust. There is in the treasury 350,000,000 of coined silver dollars and $145,000,000 of uncoined bullion. The legal tender of these coins must be preserved and their parity to gold maintained. It is well enough to stop the further mintage of silver, but that in circulation must be sustained. To stop making silver dollars would not impair the usefulness of those already made, so long as a guarantee is back of them."

The Senator further expressed a belief that the cessation of silver coinage would not bring gold more into circulation, and attributed the present stringency to apprehension of the mercantile and financial world that the government will not meet its obligations in gold but will pay in cheap money.

A Silver Day.

CHICAGO, July 3.—The silver day committee appointed by the transmississippi congress, held a meeting today to perfect arrangements for a program for a silver day at the World's Fair, which has been set for September 11th. Ex-Governor Prince of New Mexico, chairman of the committee, presided. It was decided to have speeches delivered and so arranged that, when published, the whole silver proposition would be presented to the public, together with an answer to all objections to free coinage. Details of the arrangements have been left to a sub-committee composed of Governor Prince, O. N. Crawford and W. H. Harley.

California Winners.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—It was California day at Washington park today, the first four races going to animals bred on the Pacific Coast. Santa Anita's Empress of Norfold beat the favorite, Barka's Daughter, badly after a drive down stretch. The second race was only a gentle exercise for Zolambian who was one to four in the betting. Revolver had sixteen competitors in the third race, but left them all the way behind from start to finish. Galindo's victory in the handicap in the fourth race was an impressive one. K. A. Blackburn, the favorite and Galindo were in the rear up to the stretch where they came up and the latter won rather easily.

May Be Lost.

BUZZARD'S BAY, July 3.—The weather is thick in Buzzard's bay, and there are no signs of the yacht Oneida, having on board the presidential party. Nothing has been heard of the party since they left New York. The yacht left New York Friday night. The usual run is a few hours, and inasmuch as the boat has not been reported at any port it is the opinion here that the yacht is at anchor down in the bay waiting for a clearing of the thick fog which will allow her to proceed.

FIRE IN VISALIA.

Two Dwellings Destroyed in Northern Part of Town.

Special to The Republican.

VISALIA, July 4.—Two residences in the northern part of town are burning down. One belongs to a widow whose name cannot at present be obtained. Loss is said to be total.

JOHN SONTAG DEAD

He Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon.

SHOT THROUGH AND THROUGH

What the Post Mortem Examination of the Body Revealed—The Coroner's Inquest.

At 1.35 yesterday afternoon John Sontag died of his wounds in the county jail.

During the early morning he suffered intensely up to about 10 o'clock when he became unconscious and remained so until he died.

His mother and Mrs. Chris Evans were with him at the time of death. With the exception of these and his medical attendants none were admitted to the jail, though morbid curiosity prompted a large number to attempt to get into the jail. They did not succeed.

As soon as possible the body was removed to the morgue and an autopsy was made by Dr. J. L. Maupin and Dr. Pedlar in presence of Drs. Davidson, W. T. Maupin, Hayden, Hare, Aiken and others.

It was found that the bone of the upper arm was shattered to pieces close to the socket, and that with the exception of a small fragment the bullet had passed on across the body, just missing the spinal colum by passing outside of it and thence out of the body on the left shoulder blade.

At no point had the bullet penetrated the cavity of the body and it was the opinion of the physicians present that he would have recovered had his arm been amputated promptly at the time of the injury.

Coroner Stephens at once impanelled a jury and proceeded to hold an inquest. The first witness was H. L. Rapelje, who retold the story of the fight at Stone Corral and stated that it was impossible to arrest Sontag and Evans without the use of firearms.

Tom Burns was next called and substantially corroborated the story of Rapelje.

Mrs. Mary Sontag was the next witness. She testified that the dead man was her son, and was born thirty-three years ago May 27th last. His true name was John Contant, his father, a Hollander, was dead, and the boys were called Sontag after her present husband.

She is 57 years of age, a native of Germany, and her residence is Mankato, Minn. George Sontag is three years younger than John and both were born in Mankato.

The physicians not having completed the autopsy the inquest was adjourned to tomorrow, when further evidence will be taken.

THE MEN'S LEAGUE.

THE EVILS OF INTEMPERANCE DISCUSSED.

Charles Barrett of Barrett & Hicks Talks About the Saloon.

Last night the Men's Christian League of the First Presbyterian church held its regular monthly meeting, and an increased attendance and interest were some of the encouraging results. The question for discussion was: "How Can We Lessen the Intemperance in Our City?"

The opening speech was made by Chas. Barrett, of the firm of Barrett & Hicks, and he handled the subject in a practical way. Among other remarks he said:

"There are sixty-nine licensed saloons in Fresno today. I saw two dray loads of beer being delivered to one of these places Sunday morning, and was told there had been two previous. Who drinks all this stuff, and why? The saddest and most pitable objects in the army of drinking men are those from the poorer classes. They toil for the scantiest of food and raiment. They drink to drown the thought of oppression which it cannot be denied is too often meted out to them from the other ranks of society. Surely better treatment and education will go a long way toward alleviating the drink evil among this class.

The middle class—well, they drink because it is the "popular fad." In this class are to be found the moderate drinker—the worst example of all for the youth of our land, who would not imitate the old toper.

For the upper ten we can say nothing only they have too much money and too little sense.

But one of the greatest causes of intemperance is the forced idleness among our working people.

On the average California ranch the stock is better cared for than the men employed. The food is poor and improperly cooked and the hired man is introduced to the haystack, or worse bunk house, and invited to provide his own blankets. When he is discharged and has to make a move he puts the aforesaid blankets on his back and is then designated as a tramp. Is it any wonder that these men drink?

I would hope to see this and other Men's Leagues grow and prosper until we could maintain an employment bureau and help to provide places for some of these friendless wanderers. I believe that would be Christianity of the right kind.

Other short but telling speeches were made by Thos. Egan, G. S. Bowers, Philo Phelps, Prof. McLean, Mr. Horton, Dr. Aiken and others, after which the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That we declare ourselves ready to renounce party politics in all city and county elections, and pledge ourselves to vote for men who will work for temperance and all moral reforms in our city and county."

The sentiment of the League is decidedly in favor of reform, and all men who feel the good of the city at heart are invited to attend its meetings and unite with them in this work.

A Good Band.

The Merced brass band of thirteen pieces, J. Y. Jones, Jr., leader, arrived last night en route for Newman where they will play in the celebration at that place. They serenaded THE REPUBLICAN office at midnight and made several welkins ring.

A Fast One.

KIRKWOOD, Del., July 3.—The trotter Ayres P., with his running mate, Telephone, went a mile on a kite track today in 2.03¾. Mascot was driven a half mile in 59 seconds.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

A Short Session Held Last Night.

THE FIRECRACKER NUISANCE

The Wholesale Plan of Buying Deferred for the Present—Miscellaneous Business.

The city fathers held a brief session last night, and transacted some routine business and passed some bills.

The city marshal reported having collected $114 00 in licenses.

The resolution of intention to put a sewer in blocks 343 and 337 was adopted, and at the request of E. S. Van Meter the vote was reconsidered, and Mr. Van Meter presented a communication from W. H. Herrington withdrawing his petition. He also presented a protest from residents of block 343. The matter was postponed until the next meeting.

The report of the Free Library trustees was referred to Mr. Church, to report upon at the next meeting.

Chairman Church called attention to the low state of the funds and advised the council to go slow.

VOUCHERS FOR GAS.

The secretary of the Gas and Electric Light Company appeared before the board and asked for vouchers for the sums owing to the city by the board. The company wanted to borrow money, and they could not do so without depositing some collateral. Mr. Church said that he could give vouchers payable the first Monday in November.

THE STREET SWEEPER.

The street superintendent reported that the street sweeper was not cleaning the gutters properly. He was instructed to notify the street sweeper to do his work properly under penalty of having his contract forfeited.

THE FIRECRACKER ORDINANCE.

Firecrackers and other explosives were heard through the open windows and Mr. Church called the attention of the city marshal to the fact. Mr. Morgan said that there was an ordinance against the explosion of firecrackers, etc., and that he would at once give special orders to the policemen to have the dangerous practice stopped.

Spinney reported that coal oil could be purchased by the tank at 8 cents a gallon less than the price now paid.

Mr. Harrington reported that the committees did not have any money to purchase supplies by wholesale. Supplies could be bought by retail until there was sufficient money in the treasury to buy by wholesale.

FIREMEN'S SALARIES.

City Attorney Risley said that one of the outgoing firemen had divided his salary for May with his successor and that the city was well protected in the matter of the suits for salary brought by the outgoing firemen, the present firemen having agreed to work the first month for nothing provided that the outgoing firemen receive their salaries in the courts.

Spinney called attention to the necessity for buying sewer brushes to clean the sewers.

He suggested also that as the contract for taking care of the city sewage would soon expire it would be well for the council to make preparations for the purpose of buying or leasing land upon which to deposit sewage.

He suggested also that the floors of the engine houses be cut down and a layer of dirt be placed under the horses' feet for the purpose of making it easier for the animals.

No action was taken.

City Engineer Shepard reported that his two predecessors had not filed his notes of work done as provided by law. Mr. Etter had not given the location of a single Y in the sewers.

Spinney moved to instruct ex-City Engineers Etter and Hughey to file with the city clerk their notes of all sewer work done by them. The motion was carried.

Spinney called attention to the fact fact that the city park was not watered on Sunday, and suggested that it should be sprinkled hereafter every day. Referred to the park committee.

OPENING AMADOR STREET.

City Attorney Risley suggested the appointment of a committee of one to confer with the railroad officials for the purpose of opening the street across the Southern Pacific railroad track at Amador street.

The matter was referred to the city attorney.

The following bills were read:

GRADY VS. GRADY.

Hymen's Halters are Smashed to Smithereens.

Annie M. Grady vs. W. D. Grady is the title of the divorce case in the superior court which now holds the record for speed.

They scored up for the word "go" exactly at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon by the plaintiff filing a complaint with the clerk of the superior court, charging the wilful W. D. with looking too regularly upon the wine cup when it moveth itself aright and looketh like a pot full of excited eels.

Grady did not care to argue the question with any one who objected to nice little pink-edged jags, and therefore it happened that the decree got on record at 3.14½ p.m, by a split-second watch, thus making the swiftest record of a matrimonial partnership on record.

Grady says he will continue to practice law and the social virtues in Fresno.

No paper will be issued from this office in the morning, THE REPUBLICAN'S employes desiring to celebrate the Fourth in Pollasky, Stockton, Sanger, Modesto, Shelbyville, and other patriotic towns.

THE financial crisis which followed the collapse in the market for silver bullion was due entirely to a disarrangement of values precipitated by foreign intrigue, and not to any real stringency in the home money market, says the San Francisco Post. The supply of coin has at all times been more than sufficient for any emergency which might arise, and all that was required to put business back again into the regular channels, where it could pursue the even tenor of its way, was some certainty that the government would interfere and take action in the matter.

THE SACRAMENTO BEE, the brainiest paper north of Fresno, entered upon a new volume last Saturday, and took occasion to speak boldly of its connection with the capitol removal question. The following are a few extracts:

"Even the boycott was resorted to by some in a most despicable, cowardly, contemptible and underhanded manner. Gratuitous advice was offered to the managers of The Bee as to the proper course of subdued humility and sorrow that should be followed by this paper. It is needless to say that such counsel was even more offensive than the open warfare of some and the secret boycotting by others.

"The Bee was given a very limited lease of life. Few know the extent of the infamous measures resorted to to crush this journal. Surely, never in the history of journalism in this state have they been paralleled. It is not necessary to rehearse them here, nor will they ever be rehearsed. The people are interested in results, not in past events.

"The Bee went straight along in its honest, upright and fearless course, declining to conciliate, refusing to apologize, and trusting in the good sense of the masses and the sober second thought of the mercantile community for its justification and for its victory.

"In opening its new volume today it feels the red and buoyant blood of youth coursing in its veins.

"It has never put off its armor in the battle for the right and the advancement and prosperity of this community, but today its armor seems stronger and yet lighter than ever, and its heart beats high with hope and confidence, with perfect faith and trust."

COMMENTING upon political pessimists the Los Angeles Times says: "And when defeat after defeat overwhelmed our loyal armies, the pessimistic croakers cried again. Nowhere have we a captain who may lead our armies to victory. We fear that the days of this united Republic are ended. Oh for the great men of the past to lead us on to victory. But out of the tanner's shop came Grant, the greatest captain of the ages, leading mightier armies than ever before had been marshaled under any single leader, ready to fight for peace and a perpetual union. Upon the pages of history is there anywhere a more illustrious name than that of the nation's great captain? And he had his fellows, Sheridan and Sherman, and hundreds of others whose names swell the list of the immortals 'who were not born to die.'

"Every generation has its great men, who are in advance of the age in which they live. They come upon the stage of action with the need that requires them. The history of nations is not written by the hand of Chance, but by a guiding, overruling and intelligent Power. Our public schools, colleges and universities are nurturing great men for the future. Intelligence is broadening with wider educational advantages, and the youth of today are being fitted, as never before, for self-government, and the duties devolving upon them as sovereign citizens of a free public. The history of our past is an object lesson full of wisdom and of inspiration. They cannot study it and remain indifferent to the principles of the government whose preservation has cost the nation such untold blood and treasure. In the study of the past loyalty and the love of liberty will be nurtured, and to the future shall be born, as its needs demand, the coming preservers and captains of the republic. A hundred years from now and the pessimist will not be found who will dare to croak and belittle the day in which he lives, for there will be giants in those days, men of large mental stature, of patriotic purpose; men who shall lead and not follow, and who shall hew the paths of progress for the race."

THE "Private Entrance for Ladies" to low saloons has again justified itself as a most deadly enemy to society. The indescribably horrible murder in one of these deadfalls in San Francisco last week was unquestionably committed without malice. It was the outcome of rum, pure and simple, through the agency of the "Private Entrance for Ladies," says the Record-Union.

A woman represented to have been an exemplary wife and mother, puts her infant to bed, leaves her home and in a few hours is found in a "Private Room for Ladies," an annex to a saloon, dead, and evidently killed after a manner that cannot be mentioned. Her murderer is taken, covered with the woman's blood and maudlin drunk. That is all there is to it. There was no plot to kill, no accomplice, except the "Private Entrance for Ladies"; no use of an ordinary weapon, no apparent motive, such as usually actuates murderers. It was simply and only a murder by the "Private Entrance for Ladies."

But society licenses these hell holes; it takes toll upon the revenue they extort through depraved tastes; society is, in short, in open and unblushing partnership with the vilest and most disgraceful means of gratifying low appetites. Society is particeps criminis in the murder of Mrs. Griffes, and will continue to be partner in all such crimes, as long as it declares the business of running private entrances for ladies to doggeries a legitimate business.

It is replied, as it was in San Francisco, when the proposition to forbid the keeping of these hell holes was afoot, that in this broad land of liberty it is a human right to keep such places, of which the citizen cannot be lawfully deprived. But that is a senseless plea. Organized society protects itself from danger in the storage of explosives; it rightly extends its arm to protect youth, and forbids the sale of liquor to minors under a certain age; it lawfully, and by virtue of the right of self-protection, prohibits the dispensing of poisons, the keeping of disorderly houses, and the disturbance of the rest of the people in the hours of rest.

Society has the right to clear its skirts of further complicity in crime committed in these saloon annexes by refusing to license them. The decent dealer in intoxicants wants no such supplemental aid to his business. He does not wish to be classed with the hell holes of which we speak; he demands that discrimination be made in these matters, and it must be done, or state and municipal governments must continue to be shares in the crimes these low places nightly grind out of the grist that comes to their infamous mills.

By sending to this office the name of a new subscriber to either daily or weekly with pay for first month for daily (sixty cents) or three months (seventy-five cents) for weekly.

These books are, either of them, worth many times the price of the paper, but are given away so as to increase the already large circulation of THE FRESNO MORNING REPUBLICAN and FRESNO WEEKLY REPUBLICAN.

The books are well and substantially bound, clearly printed, and are highly useful in the household.

OUR FAMILY PHYSICIAN

Is a standard work, over 100,000 copies having been printed and sold. It was compiled and edited by H. R. Stout, M. D., a physician of more than national reputation. It is a plain, practical and reliable guide to the detection and treatment of all the diseases common to the country. Designed for use by people who have not made the practice of medicine a study or a business and who are not supposed to be familiar with technical phrases and names, but want information stated in plain English. Gives separately with every disease the treatment prescribed by each of the "schools" and full and explicit directions for nursing the sick, preparation of food for the sick, etc.

To know when to go after a doctor is an important thing. Nine times out of ten calling one is a useless expense, while failing to call one at the proper time may cost a life. This book contains 540 pages, bound in cloth, making an ornamental, as well as useful, addition to any library.

THE LADIES' OWN COOK BOOK

Is a practical and economical guide to cooking, canning, curing and preserving. Including also a chapter on confectionery, showing how to make all kinds of candies, ice cream, etc., by MRS. JANE WARREN.

This book is a standard authority on cooking. It is very tastefully printed and bound in oilcloth.

A copy of either of these valuable books will be presented to any subscribre of THE REPUBLICAN, according to the terms set forth above.

THE HEATH TRIAL.

Tojanari's Testimony Torn to Tatters.

MR. HENSLEY ON THE STAND

Grove L. Johnson Learns Several Things From Him—Mrs. Sam'l of Posen.

Yesterday was a field day for Mr. Johnson in the Heath trial.

He took Tojanari, the porter of the Monarch saloon, in hand on the cross-examination and knocked his very nice story to tatters.

Then he elicited the fact from Mrs. M. B. Curtis that Heath never mentioned the death of McWhirter when he came to the ranch on the day of the killing and that she first learned of it on reading a newspaper that evening.

Sheriff Hensley was rigidly cross-examined with the result of eliciting many important facts which will be found below.

Joe Tojanari, the porter of the Monarch saloon, was the first witness called yesterday for the defense. Mr. Tojanari spoke English well enough not to require the services of an interpreter.

On the morning of the McWhirter murder the witness in accordance with his usual custom unlocked the saloon doors at a little before 4 o'clock and found the place empty. His attention being attracted by a noise he went to the store room and found two live turkeys there. He did not see Heath in the saloon that morning, and he did not see Seaward that morning about half past 10 o'clock. He did not recollect seeing Spease or Hamilton at the saloon on that day.

His evidence was introduced for the purpose of flatly contradicting the testimony given by Spease, Seaward and Daly to the effect that they were in the saloon on the morning before Tojanari arrived and that while Tojanari was behind the bar getting a drink Heath, Polley and the unknown man entered the saloon.

POLLEY BROUGHT IN.

The prisoner Polley was brought into court at this time for the purpose of being identified by the witness. Polley has large blue eyes rather close together and shifty in their expression. His face is rather thin and his manner nervous. He glanced at the jury several times critically and listened to Mr. Johnson's argument on a law point with an appearance of considerable interest. The argument was on the admissibility of a question as to whether Seaward had not offered the witness $100 to testify falsely before the grand jury and whether Seaward had not represented at the same time that he, Seaward, was to get $5000 in the event of the conviction of Heath and Polley.

Mr. Deuprey announced that it was also proposed by the defense to prove a conspiracy to swear "this man's life away," and Mr. Johnson argued that the law laid down the method of proving such a fact and that the method adopted by the defense in the examination of this witness was not a legal one.

The objection was sustained by the Court.

Polley was then requested to stand up, and the witness was asked whether he had seen Polley on the morning of August 29, 1892. The witness replied that he had not.

The witness proceeded to tell about his visit to the jail for the purpose of identifying Heath and Polley, and was asked whether he had identified either one of them as having been at the Monarch saloon on the morning of August 29, 1892, and this question was ruled out.

On the cross-examination the witness said that he was born in Florence, Italy, in 1845. The first man he saw when he opened the saloon on the 26th day of August was Packard the soda man.

"Was the 26th day of August the day on which McWhirter was killed?" asked Mr. Johnson.

"Yes, sir."

"Are you sure it was the 26th of August that McWhirter was killed?"

"Yes, sir."

"Do you know what day of the week it was?"

"No, sir."

"Do you know what day of the week it was the day before the killing?"

"No, sir."

The counsel for the prosecution smiled at this hit of Mr. Johnson, for the 26th of August was three days before the murder, McWhirter having been killed on the 29th.

The witness said that he testified before the grand jury that Heath was in the Monarch saloon on the night preceding the McWhirter murder, but that was a mistake, because he meant the night before the murder of Albert Lee. "Albert Lee was killed before McWhirter was killed," added the witness.

"Are you sure of that?" asked Mr. Johnson.

"Yes, sir; Lee was killed first."

This answer also provoked a smile, the fact being that Lee was murdered in October, a little more than a month after the murder of McWhirter.

Mr. Johnson asked the witness whether he opened the saloon on the morning of the Lee murder.

"Yes, sir; every morning.

"Are you sure of that?"

"No, sir. Tom Seaward was there. The saloon had been open all night."

"You are not very certain about any of these matters, Joe," asked Mr. Johnson, affectionately.

"No; I just walk right along about my business. I didn't pay very much attention to it; never talked with anybody about it."

"You have simply an indistinct recollection as to these things happening?"

"That's all, sir."

"You didn't claim to be dead certain as to any of these things, Joe?"

"No, sir."

"You don't remember the date of the McWhirter murder?" asked Mr. Deuprey.

"No, sir."

"You remember it was the morning on which you found the turkeys in the saloon, and which Packard told you that McWhirter was murdered?"

"Yes, sir."

PLENTY OF TURKEYS.

"Then Mr. Johnson gently took up the witness again, and asked whether he had not found turkeys in the saloon on other mornings, and the witness replied that he had.

"Lots of times?"

"Yes, sir."

EX-SHERIFF HENSLEY.

John M. Hensley, ex-sheriff of Fresno county, said that at 3 o'clock in the morning of August 29, 1892, he was in his home, corner of Kern and M streets. He heard six shots—three right together—a little interval then three shots more; heard screaming about the last shot, whether before or after he could not tell. Got out of bed, dressed and went to the jail, where he remained ten or fifteen minutes and walked down to Mariposa street, where he met Policeman A. N. Grady. Then he and Grady walked down Mariposa street for about a quarter of a block on the south side of the street, between J and K streets. Here he remained f.r about twenty-five or thirty minutes—about seventy-five feet from the Monarch saloon. A light wagon and two horses, with three persons in it, came to the Monarch saloon. Two of the men assisted a third to get out of the wagon, and said, "Get out of there, you —— of a ——." Something appeared to be the matter with the man. He seemed to be asleep, or didn't seem to know that the wagon had stopped. Two of the men were Seaward and Spease. They had a sack with them containing two fowls. These two men opened the door of the saloon and went in

The witness remained there a little while and did not see Heath or Polley there at all.

A STATEMENT DENIED.

The witness denied that Seaward had told him that there was big money in the case for Seaward and that Seaward had a clue that was of great value. Seaward did not tell the witness in that conversation that Heath and Polley had been in the saloon on the morning of the murder.

The witness left word at the Monarch saloon for Seaward to call at his office August 30th and Seaward did so. The sheriff informed him that as Seaward had been out with some companions on the morning of the murder he might be able to give some information concerning it.

"I asked him," continued the sheriff, "if he had seen any one on the road going out and he said he had not. I asked if he had met any one going out or coming in and he said that he had not."

It was "somewhere's" along after 3 o'clock that the witness arrived at the point where he and Policeman Grady commanded a view of the Monarch saloon and he stood there about twenty minutes and saw no one come out.

"You were sheriff of this county at that time?" asked Mr. Johnson.

"Yes, sir."

"You understood that it was your duty to investigate any suspicious death or crime?"

"Yes, sir."

"You understood it to be your duty as sheriff to investigate the death of McWhirter?"

"Yes, sir."

"It was in pursuance of that belief that you left word at the Monarch saloon for Seaward to call upon you?"

"Yes, sir."

The witness said that it was about 3.30 o'clock when Seaward arrived at the saloon. The witness remained in the vicinity of the saloon for probably fifteen or twenty minutes. He was watching the saloon all the time he remained there. He stood in front of Williams' butcher shop.

"You knew what the coroner's inquest was called for?"

"Yes, sir."

"We wish to show," said Mr. Johnson, "that this witness did not mention in any way, shape, form or manner by inference or suggestion at any time the fact that he saw Seaward and his companions drive up to the Monarch saloon."

"Did you say anything of this at the coroner's inquest?"

"I don't think so."

"Why?" asked Mr. Johnson sharply.

"Because I was not asked the question."

"You were examined as a witness before the grand jury?"

"Yes, sir"

"You knew that Mr. Church was elected District Attorney and you knew he was conducting the examination before the grand jury?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you ever tell District Attorney Church or Mr. Walser, his assistant, about seeing Seaward and Spease drive up to the Monarch saloon before the grand jury met?"

"I don't think I did."

"Why?"

"It was never asked me."

"You knew that clues of that kind sometimes lead to the discovery of guilty people; don't you?"

"Yes, sir."

"You did not tell the District Attorney or his assistant about it?"

"I never had any occasion to."

"It is a matter you didn't pay much attention to?"

"Not much."

"Was not interested in it?"

"Not a great deal."

"You didn't offer any reward?"

"No, sir."

"Was not looking for any reward?"

"No, sir."

"Didn't care for any reward?"

"No, sir."

"This matter that when you were sheriff you thought sufficient importance for you to inquire into you didn't think of sufficient importance to tell the District Attorney about?"

"Yes, sir; I had investigated it myself."

"Do you remember Mrs. McWhirter saying to you that she had heard that people at the Grand Central hotel had heard the shots and had heard her cries, and you told her you also had heard the shots, and then didn't she ask you whether you didn't think it was your duty to investigate this matter, and you made no response to her at all?"

"I didn't hear that; I don't remember any such statement."

"Do you deny that she made that statement at the time in presence of Bury and Welch?"

"Not in my hearing."

The witness said that the first time he heard of the death of McWhirter was between half past 8 and 9 o'clock that morning.

"You didn't know how many shots were fired, but simply you heard six shots after you woke up?"

"Yes, sir."

"At the jail you made no inquiry as to the time?"

"No, sir."

"You didn't look at your watch or a clock when you heard the shots?"

"No, sir."

"Nor when you went to the jail?"

"No, sir."

The witness stayed in the jail about fifteen minutes and sat down near the jail for about ten or fifteen minutes. He then went down on Mariposa street, and did not look at a watch or clock at that time.

"That was the extent of the inquiry you made that morning as to the cause of the shooting?"

"Yes; that morning."

"Did you not on that very morning at about 5 o'clock go to Mr. Sherwood and Fulton G. Berry in the Grand Central hotel—did you not go to their rooms and wake them out of bed and ask them if they knew where Dick Heath was?"

"No, sir."

"You are sure of that?"

"Yes, sir."

"Was it not the reason you didn't go further north than court house park because you expected to hear about it somewhere else?"

"No, sir."

"Are you sure of that?"

"Yes, sir."

"Didn't you expect to hear about some shooting that night?"

"No, sir."

HE ASKED GRADY.

The witness admitted that on the first of last November he told W. P. Thompson and Detective McFarland that he asked Policeman Grady about the shooting and Grady said he didn't know what it was about.

"You heard somebody screaming after the shots were fired?"

"Yes, sir."

"Why didn't you go north and inquire about the shooting?"

"Well, I thought I would go down and see the policemen and thought that they might be able to tell me something about the shooting."

"Did you expect any shooting that night?"

"No, sir."

"Did you tell Thompson and Bury that you went home intending to investigate it, and that a couple of days afterwards Seaward told you that he saw Dick Heath and another man on Tuolumne and K streets a few minutes after the shooting?"

"No, sir."

"Are you sure of that?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you say to those gentlemen that you had gone out to interview Heath at the Curtis ranch, and had a few minutes' talk with Heath?"

"I don't remember all that was said; I don't remember stating that I went out to see Heath."

"Do you deny it?"

"I don't remember?"

"Do you deny it?"

"It may have been the case."

"Did you say to those gentlemen that you had not told Heath that a man had seen him coming from the direction of McWhirter's house that night, and that you had not told Heath that Seaward had seen him that night?"

"I don't remember having told them that?"

"Do you deny having told them that?"

"No, sir."

"Did you tell those gentlemen that Ward and Bury had gone to the Curtis ranch and got a written statement from Heath."

"I believe I told them; I so understood it."

"Did you tell those gentlemen that you would get that statement from Heath to Bury, and that you would let Thompson see it?"

"I don't remember whether it was at that time."

"Do you deny making that statement at that time?"

"No, sir."

"Did you communicate anything I have spoken about to the district attorney or his assistant, Mr. Walser?"

"I don't think so."

"How long after you heard that McWhirter had been killed before you went up to his premises to investigate?"

"I went up there about 9 o'clock in the morning."

"Did you go into the house?"

"My recollection is that I did not go into the house."

"Do you remember whether it was at your suggestion that Ward and Bury went out to interview Heath?"

"I don't remember."

"You knew they were going out, and you had a talk with them before they went?"

"Yes, sir. I suggested that it might be well to take a written statement from Heath."

"Was that because of the statement that Seaward made to you?"

"No sir."

"Why was it?"

"Well, he happened to be here that night and had gone away."

"That was enough for you to investigate Heath?"

"Well there was a great deal of talk on the streets about it."

"You read that written statement?"

"No sir, I never saw it."

"You knew that they had got a statement, and you as sheriff of this county never asked them to let you see that statement? Didn't you have curiosity enough as sheriff to inquire into the statement of the man about when you had consulted with them?"

"I asked Mr. Bury and he said he was entirely satisfied that Heath was innocent."

"Didn't you go out to see Heath at Curtis' ranch before Bury and Ward went?"

"Yes sir."

"You went out with Ward?"

"Yes sir, I drove out to see him and to see what I might discover on the road. I talked a little with Heath, and I relied on Bury's skill and ability to take the statement."

"Did you ask Ward and Bury to investigate as to the truth of the statement made by Heath?"

"No sir."

"And you didn't investigate it?"

"No sir."

"Now don't you know that you did investigate it by inquiring of Sherwood?"

"No sir."

"All that you did in the way of investigating it was to sit in your office and wish it well?"

"I investigated it in my own way."

"You went to the ranch and saw Dick Heath and examined the McWhirter premises and went around town and interviewed Seaward?"

"Yes sir."

"You didn't ask Heath where he was that night?"

"No sir."

NOT LOOKING FOR VOTES.

"Now as a matter of fact between you and I you were mighty busy about that time looking for votes?"

"I was not paying much attention for votes."

"Who else did you talk with?"

"Several persons."

"You talked with Bury?"

"Yes, sir.'

"With Reel Terry?"

"Yes, sir."

"And got some information from Mr. Terry about it?"

"No, sir; I don't think I did."

"Can you remember a single human being—man, woman or child—that told you anything about Dick Heath and his connection with this homicide prior to your going out to the Curtis ranch to interview Dick Heath?"

"I don't remember; I heard it on the streets."

"Wasn't it Tom Seaward who told you?"

"No, sir."

"You have taken some interest in the defense in this case, haven't you?"

"No, sir."

"Haven't you interviewed witnesses for them?"

"No, sir."

"Who was it that told you that Heath was seen that morning coming from the direction of McWhirter's house?"

"I don't remember. That was several months afterwards."

"Did you say to Grady when you saw the wagon drive up, 'Keep this to yourself?'"

"Not at that time. My recollection was I said that the next day."

"What for?"

"I thought we would take advantage of it if it had any connection with the case and that I would not have other people bothering us about it."

"Was any reward offered at that time?"

"I don't remember."

"On the redirect examination the witness said that he had told District Attorney Tupper and Deputy District Attorney Welsh what he knew about the case. At that time George Contant, alias Sontag, was in the Fresno jail and the witness expected trouble. That was why he went to the jail when he heard the shots. It was his understanding that policemen were patrolling the different portions of the city at the time.

MR. WELCH'S OPINION.

Mr. Johnson and Mr. Terry were arguing on an objection, and Mr. Hinds interrupted by saying, "Mr. Welch was trying his best to show that this defendant was not guilty."

"He was nothing of the kind," retorted Mr. Terry, vehemently. "He was doing his best to find out who the guilty parties were, and he was doing his duty. Mr. Welch is a gentleman who stands as high in this community as any other man."

Mr. Johnson appeared to be very much pleased at this outbreak. He remarked, with a sarcastic smile, that the discussion had enlighted him considerably on some of the history of certain officials of this county. "Is this Mr. Welch any relative of Thomas Welch, the policeman?"

"He is not, replied Mr. Terry. "If he is it is so far back that nobody knows it."

"For the encomiums paid by the defense to Thomas Welch I didn't know but that they were of the same family," remarked Mr. Johnson.

Mr. Hensley, resuming his testimony, said that Bury told him that he (Bury) was satisfied that Heath had no connection with the death of McWhirter whatever.

"All that you knew about it was that you heard the shots, and you came down town to the jail and saw that George Sontag was safe?" asked Mr. Johnson.

"I was taking a good deal of interest in the jail about that time.

"Then you walked down Mariposa street, and then your mind was at ease?"

"Yes; then I went home."

The witness said that he let Detective Bury have the pistols and other evidences of the court in his possession for three or four days.

"Didn't you refuse to allow Detective McFarland to see those things?"

"No, I don't remember that; I don't think I had them at the time McFarland called."

"James A. Ward had possession of some of these things, hadn't he?"

"Yes, sir."

"Didn't you refuse to allow Lee Blasingame to look at that pistol and take it while it was in your possession?"

"No, sir."

MRS. M. B. CURTIS.

Mrs. M. B. Curtis, wife of Sam'l of Posen, testified that she resided at her 460-acre ranch near Sanger. On the day of the killing Heath returned from Fresno to the ranch between 4 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon. That evening her husband sent Heath on an errand to Sanger, about four miles distant, and he returned about 8 o'clock the same evening and she bade him good night at about 9.30 o'clock when she was about to retire. She saw him again at 8 or 9 o'clock the next morning. Heath was not at supper that night as was testified to by Gordon the capenter, but he had a cold lunch after he returned from Sanger. The letters to her husband which were introduced in evidence the other day she gave to Mr. Foote.

She first heard of the killing of McWhirter when she read about it in one of the Fresno papers that was brought to the ranch at about 8 o'clock that night by way of Sanger. Nobody had told her about it.

Here the court adjourned until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

An Interesting Letter From Howard Yost.

HE TELLS WHAT HE SAW THERE

A Description Not Given Over to Rhapsodies and Adjectives.

The first day we saw the Horticultural building, and although the exhibits are classified we have seen finer growing plants.

The only really striking things were dwarf oaks and firs and other trees from Japan. Also a complete model of the capitol at Washington, about twelve feet long, made of those French immortelles. We saw some of Yost's raisin boxes here also.

Next we visited the Transportation building, and here we saw the evolution of the locomotive, and queer indeed were the first attempts compared to those monster compound Moguls of to-day. The English and French locomotives and cars are as much different as it is possible to conceive.

We saw an entire section of one of the American line steamers from deck cabins to open steerage. And then the models of steamships and war vessels almost made me sick to my stomach I want to have one so bad. There is one English model made one half and mirror at the back about ten feet long, said to have cost $20,000 to make the model, but it is perfect. The Victoria, lately sunk, has been draped in mourning and the little flag half-masted. There is displayed all manner of street cars and safety appliances for stopping.

Also carriages, carts, wagons, buggies, etc., etc. One hearse, designed by a lady, is valued at $12,000 (a fellow could die very easily to get hauled in that). Foreign conveyances are shown in every form and shape both for land and water travel.

The entrance to the transportation building is grand, indeed, being called The Golden Entrance. This is the only colored building of the principal buildings, the others being white.

The next was the mining building. The different states make some fine displays, California always attracting a good deal of attention. We saw the Montana silver statue, with gold base, the daily interest on the gold alone being figured at $70. Arizona comes next with a fine mineral display.

The Standard Oil Company show petroleum in every form and every article manufactured from it. Nearly all the large mines show cross sections, with all timbers, shafts, etc.

The precious stones are shown uncut and finished; the diamond gravel being washed on the ground, the rough, uncut stones and the finished ones; also the process of diamond cutting employed by Tiffany & Co. Mexico shows onyx in every shade, and in immense pieces.

We visited the Government building and the Smithsonian Institution. They show a working model post office, mail car, and a complete collection of unused stamps of every United States postage, revenue and envelope stamp ever issued; also every issue of coin and the process of coining.

The war department exhibits ordnance and the actual manufacture of army rifles. Also uniforms from colonial times to the present time. There is a room of general antiquities, Washington relics, etc. Also General Grant's souveniers of his trip around the world.

The process of fish hatching in every detail from eggs to fish so long—by the thousand. The sealing industry is exemplified. The patent office is there in full force with their models. The navy department shows models of every class of American crafts from the New York to little cat boats. Agriculture and injurious insects and animals are shown in every form. In fact the entire ground covered by the government is shown, the most amusing feature being the dead letter collection, which must be seen to be appreciated.

Then we saw the manufacture's building. That is we commenced Saturday afternoon and have done Japan and Austria. The Japs are showing goods in endless variety and price. Some carved cabinets being valued at $3000 and $4000 apiece. We did not order one.

I had often heard of Bohemian glass but never supposed it could be so beautiful. Hundreds of patterns and colors are shown. Also majolica ware and fine furniture.

Monday we finished up the ground floor of the manufacturers' building, seeing the Waltham, Keystone, Gorham and Tiffany exhibits. Tiffany shows a yellow diamond valued at $100,000, weighing over 123 carats. Also saw a magnolia vase, about three feet high, of silver and gold.

Gorham has a silver statue of Columbus containing 30,000 ounces of silver. The Waltham Company shows some of its most complicated automatic machinery in operation, also watch movements. Mermod & Jaccard of St. Louis show fine jewelry, one diamond necklace being valued at $14,000. The French cannot hold a candle to American jewelers, but they are in it on the dress question; some creations in dress goods that even the men appreciated when the women folks would let them see them. We saw a Russian bronze vase thirteen feet high, valued at $20,000. The French section shows some int riors that are simply grand, but the furniture is all of antique styles—Louis XIV, and so on. An American firm, however, shows a set of furniture that is finer than any of foreign manufacture. France Germany and England lead on art, pottery and some royal Worcester sets. We saw fish sets of thirteen pieces, from $150 to $450.

Well I guess I have worried you, but I know I can remember enough when I get home.

Yours, HOWARD YOST.

A SAVAGE CANARY.

One of the Very Latest of Wild Stories About Well Known Animals.

So many stories have been told recently of battles between tigers and snakes, wildcats and elephants, eagles and alligators and codfish and wild hogs that the following accurate description of an encounter between a tomcat and a canary bird cannot fail to be interesting:

The tomcat and the canary were the property of an animal dealer on the west side who has long had a reputation for veracity. The canary was noted for its fierceness. It is a female bird about 3 years old with bright yellow feathering. The tomcat is quite white, with four legs, and weighs—or rather weighed—about 12 pounds.

During the morning it was noticed that the canary seemed unusually savage. She paced up and down her cage in a great rage, gnashing her teeth and glaring at the poor cat, toward whom it turned out she had developed a fierce antipathy.

The keeper secured the door of the cage, as he thought, firmly, but during a paroxysm of temper the canary smashed the fastening and was free.

What a moment! The unfortunate tomcat gave a cry of terror and looked around for some means of escape, but there was none, the door of the room in which the carnivorous animals were kept being locked.

The proprietor of the menagerie could do nothing. Spellbound he watched the uneven contest, fearing all the time that the fury of the canary bird would be expended on himself.

With a piteous moan the wretched tomcat felt the talons of the canary bird sink into his head. He raised himself and tried to fight her off, but the bird parried his every blow and fiercely pecked at his eyes.

Once the cat seized the bird in his paw, but she got away from him in a moment with the loss of only one feather. She returned to the charge and rendered one of the cat's eyes blind with her sharp bill.

The fight had lasted five minutes, and the cat had all the worst of it. He was panting, and every now and then rolled over exhausted, uttering pitiful cries. Though he was valued at $100, the keeper of the menagerie, who was armed with a sword and a shotgun, did not dare to interfere to save him. The blood of the canary was up, and she meant to slay the cat.

It was not long before the awful work was accomplished. The bird by an adroit movement common to canaries when in conflict with quadrupeds rendered the poor Thomas cat quite blind. Then, at her leisure, with a series of fierce jabs, she penetrated his brain, and he rolled over completely dead.

The boss was trembling for his own safety, but it now seemed that the savage instincts of the canary had been satisfied, for with a jaunty air she regained her cage and began to warble a song of victory.

It meant life or death to shut the door, but the brave boss crept courageously up to the cage and succeeded in accomplishing this feat. Then he ran out into the street and fainted. The nerve pressure had been too great for him.—New York Herald.

The Value of a Little Thing.

In a little volume of lectures by Henry Irving, just published, is a story which illustrates the actor's motto, "While trifles make perfection perfection is no trifle." "This lesson was enjoined on me when I was a very young man," he says, "by that remarkable actress, Charlotte Cushman. I remember that when she played Meg Merrilies I was cast for Henry Bertram. It was my duty to give Meg Merrilies a piece of money, and I did it after the traditional fashion of handing her a large purse full of coin of the realm, in the shape of broken crockery, which was generally used in financial transactions on the stage. But after the play Miss Cushman said to me: 'Instead of giving me that purse, don't you think it would have been much more natural if you had taken a number of coins from your pocket and given me the smallest? That is the way one gives alms to a beggar, and it would have added to the realism of the scene.' I have never forgotten that lesson."

Noah Left the Ark on April 29.

Saturday, April 29, is the day marked in all ancient calendars as being the one on which Noah and his family quitted the ark after having withstood the siege of the great deluge. The day is marked in all ancient calendars, especially British, as egressus Noae de arca; the 17th of March, the day upon which Noah, his family and their great floating collection of natural history specimens set sail, being designated in the same class of early printed literature as introitus Noae in arca, "the day of Noah's entrance into the ark." Why these days were chosen as the ones upon which the supposed embarkation and debarkation were made are enigmas which the antiquarians have not yet solved.—St. Louis Republic.

FURNITURE BOUGHT.

The Committee Files a Lengthy Report.

MR. BUTLER DECLINES TO VOTE

The Report is Adopted by the Votes of Letcher, Wickersham and Sayre.

The committee appointed by the Board of Supervisors to examine and secure furniture for the court house reported at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors yesterday as follows:

"The undersigned, your committee appointed to receive proposals, and to select and purchase the furniture and metal work for the Fresno county court house and the several offices thereof, in accordance with the plans, schedules, etc., submitted by W. S. Badger, and adopted by the board, beg leave to report as follows, to wit:

We desire to say, to begin with, that according to our understanding of the matter, the first thing to consider was quality, material, workmanship and finish, which was all to be of the very best grade.

We report that we have given the matter a great deal of time and attention and have used great care and deliberation in our selections.

Pending the consideration of this matter we have made three trips to San Francisco all of which in our opinion were absolutely necessary.

We notified all parties concerned of the time, place and manner of our deliberations, and upon the 28th day of June, 1893, at 2 o'clock p.m of said day at the Lick House in the city of San Francisco (which was the time and place fixed), we received and opened the following sealed bids for supplying said furniture as per the schedules above mentioned, to wit:

WOOD FURNITURE.

Geo. H. Fuller Co.	$10,997 00
F. W. Kreling & Sons. (No. 1)	11,750 10
F. W. Kreling & Sons. (No. 2)	9,400 00
Fink & Schindler	8,400 00
Grand Rapids School Furniture Co.	8,163 60
C. F. Weiber & Co.	6,998 25

METAL FURNITURE.

Office Specialty Manufacturing Co	$11,988 60
Fenton Metallic Manufacturing Co	11,903 45

After opening the several bids were taken under advisement pending an examination of the goods of the several bidders.

After a thorough and careful examination of the goods of the several competitors and af er due deliberation upon the subject we have accepted the bids of the following named parties which we believe to be the best, to-wit:

Upon the wood schedule the bid of the Geo. H. Fuller Desk company for the sum of $10,997.

Upon the metal schedule the bid of The Office Specialty Manufacturing company for the sum of $11,988.60.

In conclusion we may say that our labors in this connection have been conducted with great care, and we make this report feeling that we have performed our duties in accordance with our best ability and understanding.

We ask that the board accept this report, ratify the action of your committee and direct the chairman of the board to sign contracts with the respective parties last abovementioned in accordance with their respective bids, and that your committee be discharged.

Respectfully submitted,

F. P. WICKERSHAM,
J. H. SAYRE,
Committee.

Fresno, July 3, 1893.

Upon reading and filing this report Mr. Wickersham moved its adoption, which Mr. Sayre seconded.

Thereupon Mr. Butler announced that he would decline to have anything to do with the matter, for reasons which he had already stated and were fully understood by the board.

The roll was called on the motion and Messrs Letcher, Sayre and Wickersham voted in the affirmative and Mr. Butler declined to vote. The motion was declared carried, thereby ratifying the arrangement made by the committee as embodied in the above report.

The committee in private conversation stated that while they had not adopted the cheapest furniture they had not only got the best and most durable to be obtained but had for the combined bids of $22,985 60 secured the same lot complete which was put in at $42,000 when bids were called for last fall.

The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.
